

PRESENTER

Julian Maze, Convenor of the Legal Aid Review Panel, Hamilton

Julian was admitted to the bar in 1976 and practised in Christchurch before moving to Nelson where he practised from 1978 until 2002. Working principally in the courts, he undertook a wide variety of family, criminal and civil litigation, much of it for legally aided clients. In 2002 Julian moved to Hamilton following his wife's appointment to the District Court bench and in 2004 was appointed Convenor of the Legal Aid Review Panel. He is in the second of two three year appointments. Since 2004 Julian has also taught advocacy at the University of Waikato Law School.
