

PRESENTERS

Her Hon Judge Mary O'Dwyer, Wellington

Judge Mary O'Dwyer was appointed to the District Court with a Family Court warrant in November 2002, and sits in Wellington and the Hutt Valley.

From 2002 to 2011 she sat in Dunedin and is a designated Youth Court Judge. She served on several New Zealand Law Society committees and on the Family Law Section Executive in 2001. She has served on the Council of Legal Education for nine years and was chair of the Family Court Education committee for five years.

She was a member of the Judicial Reference Group addressing reforms to the Family Court in 2013. In 2014 she was a member of the Court Working Group addressing reforms to family violence in the Criminal and Family Court and she sits in the Hutt Valley Family Violence Court.

Emma Parsons, Barrister, Auckland

Emma has practised and specialised in family law for over 20 years, with a particular focus on International Child Abduction (Hague Convention) matters, complex cases, practice and procedure and appellate work.

She is on the Family Court's lawyer for the child list and presents papers to Family Law conferences both here in New Zealand and overseas and was one of the presenters for the NZLS CLE The New Family Justice System seminar in March 2014.

Emma has been a barrister since 2001. Prior to that she was with central Auckland law firms Shieff England and Brookfields.
