

PRESENTER

Niamh McMahon, McMahon Butterworth Thompson, Auckland

Niamh is a partner in the firm of McMahon Butterworth Thompson and practises primarily in the commercial law area. She has been a member of the PLS Executive Committee since 2013. Niamh is a member of Standards Committee 5 (Auckland) – NZLS and a costs assessor. She was a convenor of ADLSI's Documents & Precedents Committee for seven years and drafter of the 4th ed ADLSI/REINZ Standard Agreement for Sale and Purchase of a Business. She is a regular presenter for NZLS CLE.

In her spare time, Niamh is a keen scuba diver. She says diving is very similar to the practice of law. There isn't a lot of air time, it's important not to get out of your depth and there are a fair number of sharks to watch out for.

CONTENTS

1. SETTLEMENT AND E-DEALING – CONTENTIOUS ISSUES	1
INTRODUCTION	1
BACKGROUND	1
Ready, able and willing to settle	3
A&I form	4
Ready, able and willing to settle but no settlement statement tendered	5
WHERE DOES THIS DECISION LEAVE US?	6
Ready, able and willing to settle in the absence of an e-dealing workspace	6
Ready, able and willing to settle in the absence of executing A&I forms	6
Ready, able and willing to settle in the absence of serving a settlement statement	7
Issuing a settlement statement in the absence of signing an A&I form	7
CONCLUSION	7