

PRESENTERS

Sarah Armstrong, Partner, Russell McVeagh, Auckland

Sarah is an award-winning litigation specialist with almost two decades of experience advising on a wide range of commercial disputes (both here and in the UK). She has obtained and defended applications for world-wide freezing orders, search orders, and other urgent interim and emergency relief across a variety of industries, including telecommunications, infrastructure and technology, Formula One racing and insurance. Sarah regularly appears as counsel in all levels of the Courts, specialising in banking and financial markets, energy, telecommunications, tax disputes, schemes of arrangement, company and securities law, insurance, product liability and intellectual property.

Tim Stephens, Barrister, Stout Street Chambers, Wellington

Tim has acted for public bodies, corporates and broadcasters in applications for interim relief in a variety of different contexts, including numerous injunction applications in the High Court and the Court of Appeal involving the joint venture owners of New Zealand's largest gas fields. He studied interim relief in detail when undertaking the BCL degree at the University of Oxford in 1998/1999. Tim has extensive experience in commercial, regulatory and public law matters, providing advice and advocacy for a wide range of public and private sector clients. He has been in practice for over 20 years, including time working at a leading litigation firm in London. Tim was a partner at Simpson Grierson from 2006 to 2016 and joined the independent bar at the start of 2017.
