

PRESENTERS

John Mackintosh, Partner, Mackintosh Bradley & Price, Christchurch

For some years John has conducted an ethics workshop as part of the Trust Account Partner Training Programme.

He is a past President of the Canterbury District Law Society, and has been a member of the New Zealand Law Society Council and its executive.

He has also chaired the New Zealand Law Society Practice Management Committee and has recently established a practice management and development consultancy.

Duncan Webb, Professor of Law, University of Canterbury, Consultant, Lane Neave, Christchurch

Duncan has written widely in the areas of commercial law and professional ethics including being the author of Ethics Professional Responsibility and the Lawyer. He regularly speaks to professional groups on issues of ethics and professional conduct.

He is a member of the Council of the Canterbury District Law Society and the New Zealand Law Society Ethics Committee. He also sits on the Canterbury District Law Society Complaints Committee.

In 2006 and 2007 Duncan has been involved with the New Zealand Law Society in preparing a consultation draft of the Rules of Professional Conduct and Client Care which are required under the Lawyers and Conveyancers Act 2006. Since that draft was issued in February he has been engaged in consulting with the profession further in respect of the content of those rules.

CONTENTS

1. INTRODUCTION	1
2. CLIENTS.....	3
Knowledge	3
Autonomy.....	3
Control	3
Regulation	4
Remedies.....	4
3. LAWYERS	5
Specialisation	5
Demography.....	5
Career flexibility	5
4. THE CLIENT CARE GAP	7
5. LEGISLATIVE FRAMEWORK	9
The Gestalt shift	9
Fundamental obligations	9
Client care	10
Professional standards: misconduct and unsatisfactory conduct.....	11
6. STANDARDS COMMITTEES AND CLIENT CARE: CLIENT FOCUSED REGULATION..	13
7. THE IMPETUS FOR CLIENT CARE.....	15
8. EXPLORING CLIENT CARE.....	17
9. COMPETENCE.....	19
10. FULL INFORMATION	21
The nature of the relationship	21
Keeping the client informed.....	22
The nature of the work	22
11. CLIENT CONTROL.....	25
12. COMPLAINTS AND REMEDIES	29
What is a complaint?	29
13. COMPLAINTS' MECHANISMS: OVERVIEW	31
14. COMPLAINTS AND CONFLICTS	33
15. COMPLAINTS AND INSURERS.....	35
16. CLIENT CARE IN PRACTICE.....	37
Turning an obligation into an opportunity	37
The nature of services	37
The legal services contract	38
Best practice	38
The firm's market niche	39
Systems	39
Skills	40
Bringing about change	40

Project management	41
17. SYSTEMS.....	43
Introduction	43
File management	43
File opening	43
Type of file	44
Filing system	44
Running the file	44
The file as a work tool	44
Using interview forms	45
File closing	45
Costing	45
A complaints' system	50
Complaints' register	50
Clear procedures	50
Meetings	51
Decision	51
Client care partners	52
Review of decision	52
18. SKILLS	55
Communication	55
Effective communication	55
Two way communication	55
Challenging clients	56
Interviewing	56
Ongoing communication	56
Time management	57
Paper handling.....	60
Problem solving	61
19. PROVISION OF INFORMATION.....	63
Fidelity fund coverage.....	63
Acceptance in writing	64
Professional indemnity cover	64
Unilaterally terminating the retainer	65
20. WHAT TO DO NOW	67
Leading change	67
The firm's policy.....	67
Competence.....	67
Liaise with your insurer	67
Complaints' procedure.....	68
Estimating fees	68
The firm's file management system	68
Skills training	69
Review	69
Measure.....	69
21. CONCLUSION	71
APPENDIX 1 – TAKING FEES BY DEDUCTION – HESLOP V COUSINS	73
APPENDIX 2 – SECTIONS 3, 4, 7, 12 AND 94 LAWYERS AND CONVEYANCERS ACT 2006 ..	78
LAWYERS AND CONVEYANCERS ACT 2006.....	80
APPENDIX 3 – EXERCISE	86
NOTES.....	89